Introduction to PVC Fencing

Big Country PVC Fencing

Big Country PVC Fencing is Australian owned and operated, based in the Richmond Valley Region, NSW, offering a wide range of PVC Fencing Solutions. No matter how big, small or unique your job is, a solution can be crafted to suit your individual needs, backed with a 50 year guarantee!

The story all began with Troy Mutzelburg, when he realised the true potential for PVC fencing in 2007, starting his own fencing business as a lifestyle change from the corporate world. With steady growth, Troy and his team began supplying PVC fencing all over Queensland, New South Wales and Victoria. Troy took it upon himself to personally review and test a multitude of products from Australia, USA and China, to ensure customers received only the best product suited to their region, meeting their requirements.

It's due to these ongoing, stringent tests that allows Big Country Fencing to guarantee all PVC fencing products for 50 years.

Not only can any fence style be customised, but all gates are custom built to suit. To provide this level of customisation, Big Country Fencing utilise an in-house state-of-the-art routing machine. This offers customers simple and elegant options that follow the natural contours of the land. The ability to rake down the fence design, following the contours of a customer's property, resulting in soft, sweeping fence lines. Each project has a dedicated team of skilled fencers, machinists and project managers, ready to offer their vast fencing knowledge, skill and experience to create outstanding fences.

To this day, Big Country PVC Fencing continues to offer only the best products that stand the test of time and Australia's harsh conditions. A curated collection of products that balance affordability with durability for all Australians, complete with a 50 year guarantee.

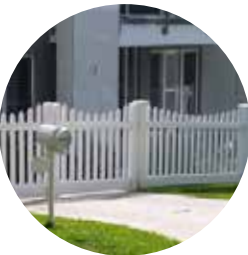

Big Country PVC Fencing products can be seen across the country on major projects, including some of Australia's most prominent horse studs, spelling farms, pony clubs and equestrian centres.

"This fence is a busy person's dream..."
It requires no painting. There is no fear of it being eaten by white ants and strong winds do not cause it to wobble. Real estate agents and neighbours attest to the fact that the fence immensely adds value to the property. So if you want more time fishing or just enjoying whatever your leisure activities are, then such a maintenance-free fence is your answer.
